

Speaker 1 (00:00):

So Susan, we're coming to you, my friend.

Speaker 2 (00:03):

Thank you, Denise. Thank you, Dr. Nikolas for spending your time with us tonight and answering our questions. We get this question a lot because people are looking for more ways to keep healthy and take in their own vitamins and minerals then. So, we get this one will ClearDrops, remove any essential minerals from our body. Like, do we need to replenish anything while we're taking it?

Speaker 3 (00:25):

Another excellent question, Susan. Thank you very much. No, it will not remove essential minerals from your body. In all ZOI Global formulations, we have in access magnesium, calcium, and potassium, and you know, the professional strength of ClearDrops under the name ClearDetox Pro that is now in the market. It has double the concentration of ClearDrops and it is available only to health care professionals. Now, these exact same formulation made by Metron Nutraceuticals under a different name, commercial name, ease in the market consistently. And without any video of stopping it from May, 2015, six consecutive years within this six consecutive years of having higher concentration formulation in the market, we never had any negative effect. So, for two reasons, the consistency of our water solution, and second, by having this in the market for six years, we are certain and really confident that you don't have any risk of ClearDrops to remove and sense essential nutrients out of your body.
