

Speaker 1 (00:00):

Lori let's move to you. We have some great questions in waiting.

Speaker 2 (00:05):

Thank You, Denise, And I'm just going to take right from what you just said, and I'm going to say I am so thrilled to be here to be using ZOI ClearDrops in my practice of medical nutrition therapy. I thank you profusely, Dr. Nikolas for inventing this product. You know that I am so grateful. So this is something that's not discussed in the medical community, and that is toxicity. And I see it every single day in the patients coming in every single day. And no one is addressing this until now. So, thank you for helping me change my platform here at my practice. So, so the question comes up because my patients know that I am particularly fussy, in a good way about what recommendations I make to them. So the question oftentimes comes up when they read the label of ZOI ClearDrops they say, you know, is this vitamin C that's in here? Is this a quote a natural vitamin C or is ZOI ClearDrops a synthetic vitamin-C. So let's address that for these people.

Speaker 3 (01:14):

Good question. Thank you for bringing this Lori, thank you for what you're doing in your practice. You're helping people and now you have a very safe and powerful tool in your hand. ClearDrops. All right. The vitamin C used by Metron Nutraceuticals in own ZOI Global formulations is natural. It is not synthetic specifically. It is a non-GMO certified vitamin-C and it is a signature ingredient of an excellent American company. The company ethical naturals located in California. That's where we source vitamin C for all ZOI Global formulations to put it in simple words, it is the best vitamin money can buy. And in this planet, if the best vitamin comes by squeezing a lemon or an orange or gave them the second best is the vitamin C that we have in all ZOI Global formulations. Thank you for bringing this, Lori.

Speaker 1 (02:37):

Yes. Thank you. Thank you for answering it. Dr. Nikolas, because that seems to be a big thing. You know, so many people looking more toward authentic and natural sources. So you've dotted every I and crossed every T your ZOI Global.